NEW OFFICES NOW OCCUPIED

Newly Prepared Rooms Receive Officers of Pennsylvania Railroad.

IDEAL QUARTERS FOR COMPANY

An Addition Will be Made to the Old Freight Rooms.

Many New Improvements Have Been Added to the Building and More Modernly Equipped Offices Can Not be Found in Marion.

Saturday was moving day at the local Pennsylvania yards and by Monday morning all the freight offices and their respective occupants will be safely quartered in their new home in the building formerly occupied by the office of the Marion Steam Shovel plant.

The newly appointed offices are the model improvement and possess many advantages over the rooms in the old freight building.

Both floors have been refurbished, a hot water heating plant has been installed and mazda electric lights will be employed in each room. On the first floor a large vault will assure absolute protection to files, freight bills and other company papers. A large safe is also found among the first floor fixtures. Perfect sanitation is claimed for the new quarters.

On the second floor a record filing case, large enough to hold company files for a period of eight years, is found. The company is required by law to have such papers for that long a time. Records covering a period of seven years have already been transferred, indexed and filed in the new cabinet. It is estimated that five tons of paper will be removed from the old offices into the new.

The company intends to make an addition to the freight rooms and in the near future they will be extended as far north as space will permit. With the added space two departments to the freight house will be permissible. One department will be used for receiving freight and the other will be employed for shipments. Shelter for eight cars will be an advantage gained by the proposed enlargement of the present building.

The following officials and employees will occupy the new office building: Freight and Passenger Agent, G. M. Kramer; Assistant Engineer, Pettigrew; Yard Foreman, J. H. Forstner; Interchange Clerk, F. K. Dik; Ticket Clerk, H. W. Hook; Chief Clerk, F. C. McCullister; Receiving Clerk, W. K. Heter; Rate Clerk, W. D. Stark; Supervisor, A. Benson and night man, J. M. Linn. Local employees are of the opinion that the Marion offices are the most modern Pennsylvania freight offices west of Pittsburgh.

Again the Pennsylvania railroad has followed the straight-forward fashion of addressing its arguments on wages directly to its own men. It happens that the Pennsylvania is entitled to an independent position, since it pays higher wages than the average of the eastern district. But just for that reason its treatment of its men deserves note. If a well considered practice of a corporation to concede relatively high wages is to have the result that the unions put it on exactly the same level with all the other employers in the same industry, the result is this last and least defensible demand of labor becomes known the better.

Probably the answer of the men would be that they are asking the Pennsylvania for an increase of only 11.5 per cent, whereas their demands upon all the other eastern roads represent an advance of 20.2 per cent. It is true that this does, in a way, constitute a recognition of the Pennsylvania's comparative liberality, but at the same time it brings out in striking relief the exorbitance of the union demands. The leaders of the locomotive engineers have not refuted the retort of the railroad managers that the scale asked means an increase, for all roads affected, of 18 per cent. The men themselves must know that any such increase to all employees at one time would dislocate any industry in the country. If it is answered on their behalf that they asked for more than they expect to get, for the sake of advantage in bargaining, they have merely prejudiced their own case.

On their own statement has intervened since the adjustment of 1910 to justify an increase in the scale, beyond what they vaguely describe as an increase of "responsibility." The Pennsylvania's address to its engineers makes a very strong prima facie case, contending as it does that this class of its employees has shared even more liberally than it could have hoped to share in the earnings of the last ten or fifteen years. It will take specific arguments of great weight to controvert the position of this railroad, and the lesson should not be lost upon the others.

Saturday was pay day for the Erie employees at Marion. The conventional pay car is not employed by the Erie company and all local help received their monthly check by letter today.

Second-trick man and wife Mr. and Mrs. J. Hanstine have left for Lancaster where they will spend Sunday.

Representatives of railroads affiliated with the Central Passenger association reaffirmed today their decision to grant nothing less than two cents a mile for convention rates during the coming summer.

A number of the smaller lines connected with the association presented arguments in favor of a deviation from this rule on special occasions. On account of their protest it is possible that a special meeting of the association may be called in order to give further consideration to the matter. Among the conventions affected by the two-cent order are the Republican and Democratic National conventions and the National Educational association to be held in Chicago July 6-12.

It also was decided to eliminate low excursion rates to Niagara Falls this summer and continue in force the regular summer fares.

The question of authorizing Sunday excursions, which was on the docket, was not taken up at the meeting. Four roads have served notice that they intend to run Sunday excursions.

Watch the new houses go up in Southwest now that the new drainage system is being installed.

MATTER OF SUNDAY SHOWS IN COURT

Jonathan Redd Arrested and Brought Into Mayor's Court.

Another step was taken Saturday afternoon in the test case brought about by Jonathan Redd, manager of the Wonderland theater on north Main street, who was arrested on the charge of opening and exhibiting a theatrical and dramatic performance on Sunday, April 7.

On April 8, Chief McDonough filed an affidavit in the mayor's court charging Redd with opening and exhibiting a theatrical and dramatic performance on Sunday, and the case was set for hearing for April 12.

Redd employed Attorney L. E. Myers while the state was represented by City Solicitor Fred W. Warner. The only witnesses that appeared at the Saturday afternoon hearing were patrolmen McColl and Shrock, both of whom testified that Redd was operating his motion picture show on the date mentioned in the complaint and both agreed that they saw him sell tickets. When asked the nature of the exhibition and whether or not it was a dramatic and theatrical performance, both witnesses agreed that in their opinion it was.

When asked by Attorney Warner if the pictures exhibited on that day were passed by the board of censors of New York City, Redd answered "yes."

At the conclusion of the testimony Mayor Walters handed down the following decision: "I find the defendant guilty and fine him $25 and costs." The defense immediately made a motion for a new trial which the court overruled. The defense took exceptions and asked the court to waive the sentence for ten days during which time an effort will be made to take it to the common pleas court.

The new drainage system is a big thing for Southwest.

MARION CHURCHES HAVE BEEN SOLICITED

Are Asked to Set Aside Sunday For Tubercular Day.

April 23, 1912, has been set aside as tubercular day and on that day churches throughout the world will cooperate in the educational part of the great campaign against tuberculosis which is now being waged. In the effort to stamp out and prevent the disease, it will be taken into the churches as well as the schools and homes.

The Marion churches have been solicited to join in the campaign and give the use of their auditoriums on that day.

The question has been raised in France whether glycerin can be regarded as a food material inasmuch as it enters into the composition of certain candy and similar materials for consumption. The final decision reached is that glycerin has little or no food value, and that its habitual indulgence may not be without evil effects.

Take a pleasant and profitable trip to Southwest today or tomorrow.

Submarines, airships and the like can be stored along the path of a previously laid cable by use of sound coils. Vessels can thus be steered to avoid submarine mines and other hidden dangers.

DIVORCE GRANTED TO LAURA LESTER

Proceedings Begun a Short Time Ago, End Today.

BERTRAND CASE SETTLED

Catherine Schuck Petitions For a Divorce.

Charges Husband With Cruelty and Neglect—Couple Have Been Married Seventeen Years and Have One Adopted Daughter.

A petition for a divorce was filed in the common pleas court today, by Catherine T. Shuck, against John T. Shuck.

The couple was married in Marion, February 17, 1895, and have no children but have an adopted daughter, Margaret W. Shuck. The plaintiff claims that the defendant is guilty of extreme cruelty towards her. That he has repeatedly threatened to kill her, struck her with his clenched fist and choked her. She states that the defendant is guilty of frequenting places of ill-repute, spends most of his earnings with bad women and fails to support his wife and adopted daughter.

The plaintiff fears that the defendant will sell or give away their personal property; she also fears that he will draw money now due him from the Erie railroad company, in order to keep her from getting reasonable alimony; she further claims that the defendant is not the proper person to have charge of their adopted child.

Therefore, she prays that she be divorced from the defendant, be allowed temporary alimony, and upon a final hearing be given permanent alimony, be given the care of the minor child, and also asks that the defendant be enjoined from selling or encumbering their household effects, and that the Erie railroad company be enjoined from paying the defendant any wages due him. H. E. Hill is attorney for the plaintiff.

A suit for damages was begun in the common pleas court today, by Robert L. Lowery against the Marion Steam Shovel company.

The plaintiff for his cause of action says that in November 1910, when he was engaged in the factories of the defendant, being employed as assistant boiler-maker, that he was made a cripple for life by reason of the negligence of the employees of the defendant. A cut of ears, which were in use on a truck owned by the defendant, struck the beam on a heavy steam shovel, driving it forward and throwing the beam down upon the feet of the plaintiff and mashing the bones of both feet, thus rendering the plaintiff a cripple for life.

The plaintiff therefore prays that a judgment be rendered against the defendant for the sum of $5,000 damages.

The case of Miriam Bertrand against the Ohio and Western Lumber company, was settled today and dismissed.

An amended petition was filed in the common pleas court, Saturday by the State of Ohio on relation to Clayton D. McClure, against Jay Spaulding, auditor of Marion county, Ohio, in which the relator says that there are no persons making claim to the compensation before petitioned for, and therefore prays as in the original petition.

An action prosecuted by Ellis E. Katz, in mandamus, against County Auditor Jay Spaulding, to compel the issuing of an order or refund, was begun in the common pleas court today.

The plaintiff states that the county auditor and county treasurer both had notices of certain assignments made to Ellis Katz, by Charles Koch, for the sum of three hundred dollars. A part of this money was paid into the H. C. Thompson's court.

A peremptory writ will therefore be awarded commanding Jay Spaulding, county auditor to issue a warrant on the county treasurer in favor of Ellis Katz.

marriage license has been issued to George H. Johnston, of Hardin county and to Cora A. Hessler, of Marion.

In the divorce of Laura L. Lester against William T. Lester, the court decreed that a divorce be granted on the grounds of gross-neglect of duty; the custody of the children be given to the plaintiff, and the defendant was given the privilege of visiting them at reasonable times. Plaintiff was also awarded alimony in the sum of $1,500 to be paid in monthly installments of $20.

When equipment the Fram for the expedition to the South Pole Captain Road Amundsen decided to use oil engines, because, with the same capacity for the storage of fuel, the oil engines gave a far greater radius of action than bulky steam engines requiring coal.

POLICE NEWS

Chief of Police McDonough left Saturday morning with prisoners Harry Barth, Charles Jones and Frank Miller for Dayton, Ohio, where the first two prisoners guilty of stealing clothes from the People's Clothing Store and Miller guilty of breaking into the Oak street school house will begin their sentence at the work house. Barth and Jones were sentenced to sixty days in the work-house and a fine of $100.

Seizing an opportunity to surprise one of their number, Chief of Police McDonough and Captain A. L. Bond and their men invaded the home of Patrolman N. A. Babcock on Center street Friday evening, which chance to be the latter's eightieth birthday.
